an extent that one of the latter was seen to cover his ears with his hands, gesture which eloquently said "Save me from my friends."

CEREMONY OF ENTRANCE.

The ceremony of the entrance of the ardinals in conclave which is always

Peter's. The sacred college, numbering 62 cardinals; the diplomatic corps, the Roman aristocracy, the Knights of Malta and a few outsiders, especially invited, were present, with a profusion of guards who today had taken off the mourning emblems they had been wear-ing for Leo XIII.

Rome, July 31.—By 5 o'clock this afternoon all the cardinals had arrived at their friends, relatives and followers the vatican and had gone to their friends, relatives and followers who surrounded the princes of the cells. The conclave has been duly church, giving them good advice warn-formed and its members are now shut ings and recommendations, all talking prepared for tomorrow's voting. Shortly after 4 o'clock the cardinals began church passed into the rear entrance of the vatican. With each cardinal were most of the baggage had been sent on before hand. The majority of the cardinals contented themselves with tak-ing permanteaus and handbags. At vatican doors the Swiss gua; ds kept back the enrious crowd, among whom were many priests. Photographers vigorously snapped the occupants of the black carriages prior to their entrance to what one cardinal called pris-

Previous to 1870 the ceremony of the entering in conclave was imposing than that of today ilvestro el Quirinale and from there alked in procession through the treets to the palace, or, if the conclave was to be had in the vatican, the carlinals met in St. Peter's, a procession was there, and after some ceremonies

"I, Mario, Prince Chigi-Albani, per-petual marshal of the canelave, deputed ect the surveillance of the apos-alace, promise and swear that I be fullful to the sacred college of most eminent and most reversad linals of the holy Catholic church, with the greatest diligence and the conclave for the election of a new pontiff and that I will not allow or suffer any cardinal or any of the people with thme to infring in any way on the established constitution of the holy fathers for the election of a Page 1. loyalty I will watch said palace during the conclave for the election of a new postiff and that I will not allow or sufthese are the holy gospels of God."

As he uttered the last word the prince put his hand on the New Testament.

After he had taken the oath his four assistants, known as captains of the conclave, three of whom assisted Prince Chigi-Albani at the conclave of 1879, the princes and secretary and the chaplain were similarly sworn and the oath was adminstered to the officers of the palatine guards and the Swiss guards. By the time this ceremony was ended many of the older cardinals were quite worn out with fatigue al-though the ritual to be followed in the opening of the conclave had by no means been carried out.

Then, in pleasing confusion, the car-dinals escorted by the noble guard assigned to him went to their respective eigned to him went to their respective "cells" or apartments. Some of the venerable prelates, such as Cardinals Mocenni, (who was born in 1823), Cretoni (born in 1823), and Langenieux (born in 1824), were so exhausted that had to be supported by the noble guard in atendance on them. In spite much reduced, so that now there are only about forty of these soldiers. As it is customary for each cardinal to have a guard told off for his service in the conclave and there are $2 cardinals, it has been decided to press into this service the cadets.

The latter are not full fledged soldiers and were drawn by lot. The question of which cardinal they fall to is a matter of serious import to them, as each guard congratulates his cardinal and wishes him good luck in the coming election, for which good wishes he receives, if his particular cardinal is elected pope, the sum of $10,000, or incrative employment. The excitement over the drawing of the lots is intense, as the soldiers do not usually get such a reward for a few good wishes. The guard of Cardinal Gibbons will be Cadet Count Della Porta. det Count Della Porta.

MARSHAL OF CONCLAVE.

The marshal of the conclave, Prince Chigi-Albani, having insisted that the number of people who are to enter the conclave must be reduced to a really indispensable number, there will be only about 275 persons present.

The Messagro says that among the petitions for relief out of the money left by Pope Leo is one from Counts Mastal and Ferreti, nephews of Pope Pius IX, who are in extreme poverty. It is rumored in vatican circles that some of the cardinals, especially the foreigners, having announced their inforeigners, naving announced their in-tention of voting for Cardinal Ferrati, the latter has been induced to with-draw his candidacy after having been promised by Cardinals Rampolla, Got-ti and Serafino Vannutelli that if one of them is elected pope he will appoint Ferrati secretary of state.

S'STINE CHAPEL TRANSFORMED.

The Sistine chapel has been completely transformed the only thing con-necting it with the temple of art, which it is generall known to theb, is Michael the celebration of the mass of the Holy Ghost in the Paulin chapel of the vat-ican. Before 1870 this mass was cele-brated in the chapel of the choir at St. Angelo's dome, which shines in undimmed brilliancy above the altar, completely covering the "Last Sacrament." The altar is hung with tapestry representing the descent of the Holy Spirit, surmounted by a violet canopy and is covered with red velwet heavily embroidered with gold. On the highest step of the altar stands a majstic red and gold chair, which will serve as a throne for the new pope when he first receives the homage of the sacred college. Along the two sides of the chapel are seath for the cardinals with high backs and each having in front of it a little desk with the car-As is always the case at such ceremonles, there was so much color in the picture that one felt as though witnessing an exhibition of a series of living pictures, until awakened to the grand reality of the religious ceremony by the singing of the Sistine choir, Cardinal Vannutelli officiated. After the Veni Sancte Spiritus had been intoned Mgr. Sardi, from the pulpit, (which was draped in red and stood in the choir having before him the pondesks contains a pen and ink and paper and above each is an imposing canopy. The first seats, near the altar, will be occupied by the cardinal deacons, the others followed in order of precedence.

DURING BALLOTING. During the balloting six candles on the altar will be lighted. A large table has been placed in the center of the chaped, for counting the votes. Most conspicuous in the chapel is a small stove, near the entrance, in which the voting papers will be burned, after they have been cast and the result determined upon. Just outside the door of the chapel is a small room, where the handful of gendarmes present more than being required to control the outside arrangements. The last cardinal to arrive was Vaszary, the primate of Hungary, who drove up in great haste a few minutes before 5

Exactly at 5 o'clock the official enwhile others were content to prepare for a few days' sojourn at the vatican. The discomfort which the cardinals will experience by being shut up in the curred and at this hour they are set-tled in their new quarters, which it is understood, each of the princes of the church has finally decided shall be for as short a time as possible as undoubt-edly the dicomfort will be very great. It is almost impossible to decribe the confusion at the vatican, each cardinal being attended, in addition to his conclavist and servants by some friends, relatives and followers, to whom he gave his last instructions besides minor prelates of all grades, newspaper men and artists to say nothing of the peo-ple attracted by the scene through

MORE INDICTMENTS ARE FOUND

Four Are Against Machen Jointly With Others-All Are the Result of the Federal Grand Jury's Investigation of the Scandals in the P. O. Department.

Crawford came into court voluntarily this afternoon and was released on $10,000 bond. Long was brought in on a bench warrant. Arrangements for his ball are now being made. Four of the indictments named

Machen jointly with others. Machen, Cupper and Long are namel jointly in one indictment for violation of the con-spiracy section of the revised statutes. The indictment tets out that between July 1, 1807, and July 1, 1901, Cupper induced Machen to give him (Cupper), the contract for furnishing materials for, and employment in the painting of boxes, package boxes and posts and that Cupper painted these boxes in Reading, Albany, Scranton and many other cities throughout the country and in addition painted 17,771 boxes at the box factory in Cleveland, Ohio, Cupper paying Machen a commission cent a box, Long acting as an inter-mediary. Another indictment against Stearnes, Loss and Machen based on alleged violation of the same statute, charges that Long entered into a conlectors' satchels for the free delivery service, the satchels to be supplied in each case with a leather shoulder strap. The cost of each of these straps to Stern in complying with his contract would amount to 25 cents. The indict-ment charges that Machen, in his official capacity, to procure shoulder straps at the expense of the United States and deliver the same to Stern to be used by the latter in the performance of his contract, in order that Stern might save 25 cents on each satchel delivered to the United States. It fur-ther charges that, notwithstanding the furnishing of such shoulder straps by the United States Stera was to charge

Machen. Various overt acts of Machen straps and the delivery of them to Stern to be used in this way are rement without deduction or allowance for these shoulder straps and various chen: George E. Crawford represented the Postal Device and Lock company which received the contract for furnishing certain of the letter carriers' satchels. contract called for shoulder straps the satchels which, the indictment charges, were never furnished by the contractor, being supplied instead by the United States, under Machen's orhen, through the Lorenzs about 30 per cent of the amount received from the government. The company, it is said, has received since July, 1902, and up to the present about $21,000 from the government for these satchels. Of this amount it is charged that Crawford paid the Lorenzs $7,000 and that the Father latter divided that amount with Mechen. The Postal Device and Lock company is a New Jersey corporation and its members mostly New York people, but Crawford has been its manager and attorney in this city and has had entire charge of its business here. No one else in the company is impli-

Maurice Runkel of New York city, Thomas W. McGregor, formerly in charge of the supplies for the rural free delivery service, and recently indicted in Baltimore under another charge, and August W. Machen are named jointly in another indictment for a similar transaction. It is charged that Runkel received payment fo shoulder straps which he falled to fur nish with carriers' satchels as required under the specifications, and that the postoffice department furnished the straps for which the contractor was paid. For this concession the indict-ment alleges that Runkel paid sums to Machen and McGregor aggregating about $2,000 to Machen and $300 to McGregor.

John T. Cupper, mayor of Lockhaven, Pa., is charged in a separate indict-ment with paying Machen a bribe of $800 in August, 1900. Long is indicted separately for paying a bribe, both these bribery cases being in the same transactions involved in the conspiracy indictments. Crawford was separate ly indicted for presenting a false claim for satchels by charging the govern ment and receiving pay therefor for the full contract price for each satched ment and receiving pay therefor for furnished by him, and that a portion shoulder straps never supplied by him REPORT CONVICTS SURROUNDED

Sacramento, Cal., July 31,-A special | with provisions has been discovered. to the Bee from the Folsom state prison says the fugitive convicts are now rejust been received by Capt. R. J. Murphy. The Auburn office states that a message was received from Sheriff David Reese of the Sacramento county posse, who had just come in from the woods, announcing that there is no doubt the prisoners have been located as indicated. This is the location generally which Sheriff Bosquit, Capt. Swisler and Capt. Murphy have contended the fugitives have been in since last Monday night. Sheriff Keena and his posse and the militia were going to close in on the suspects.

Deputy sheriffs from different points are also centering there. The five days' mountain climbing is beginning to tell both on the militia and the deputies and many of them have become weary and footsore. The action to be taken, however, will depend on the re-sult of Capt. Swisler's investigation in
